Description	WaterFire is an important part of Providence's tourist economy recovery. When there is a WaterFire lighting, hotels see occupancy rates above 90% and restaurants in the downtown and surrounding neighborhoods are full - and a host of other businesses, from parking garages to street photographers, benefit from the creative use of one of Providence's premiere public spaces. This funding allows WaterFire to begin preproduction work for a 2021 season, specifically the funds will support staffing, infrastructure investments, equipment, and materials and for producing at least 4 full WaterFire lighting events downtown. ARP funding allows for support of the tourism, travel and hospitality industries that were devastated by the pandemic.
Subrecipient	Waterfire Providence
Period of Performance Start	12/14/2021
Period of Performance End	6/30/2022
Primary Sector	emergency response
Purpose of Funds	WaterFire Providence used the funds for payroll. This was used to bring back laid off and work shared employees. This workforce gave them the capacity to present a full season of performances, which in turn bolstered the local restaurant and hotel economy.

Description	One of the many additional impacts of the pandemic's economic devastation is increased psychological distress. Those financially impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic are experiencing more psychological distress than others. Further, this distress impacts young people in a disproportionate manner, with one-third of adults ages 18 to 29 reportedly in the high distress group, compared with just 15% of adults 65 and older. This psychological distress is a contributing factor to the increase in violence in Providence and cities across the country. Additional investments in conflict resolution training will empower residents to de-escalate and resolve conflict without additional interventions.

Description	Providence Community Library will increase hours at the 3 large libraries, so they will be open additional mornings and evenings. These activities will support the community's behavioral health needs, exacerbated by the pandemic, by providing enrichment activities, internet access, and a safe community gathering space to combat isolation and engage community members in enriching activities. They will also support individual and community economic recovery from the Covid-19 Pandemic by providing adult education opportunities, staff supports, and computer access to community members looking for employment. Finally, they will address educational disparities by making the libraries more accessible to Providence youth.

Description	One of the many additional impacts of the pandemic's economic devastation is increased psychological distress. Those financially impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic are experiencing more psychological distress than others. Further, this distress impacts young people in a disproportionate manner, with one-third of adults ages 18 to 29 reportedly in the high distress group, compared with just 15% of adults 65 and older. This psychological distress is a contributing factor to the increase in violence in Providence and cities across the country. Additional investments in conflict resolution training will empower residents to de-escalate and resolve conflict without additional interventions.

Description	WaterFire is an important part of Providence's tourist economy recovery. When there is a WaterFire lighting, hotels see occupancy rates above 90% and restaurants in the downtown and surrounding neighborhoods are full - and a host of other businesses, from parking garages to street photographers, benefit from the creative use of one of Providence's premiere public spaces. This funding allows WaterFire to begin preproduction work for a 2021 season, specifically the funds will support staffing, infrastructure investments, equipment, and materials and for producing at least 4 full WaterFire lighting events downtown. ARP funding allows for support of the tourism, travel and hospitality industries that were devastated by the pandemic.

Description	Providence Community Library will increase hours at the 3 large libraries, so they will be open additional mornings and evenings. These activities will support the community's behavioral health needs, exacerbated by the pandemic, by providing enrichment activities, internet access, and a safe community gathering space to combat isolation and engage community members in enriching activities. They will also support individual and community economic recovery from the Covid-19 Pandemic by providing adult education opportunities, staff supports, and computer access to community members looking for employment. Finally, they will address educational disparities by making the libraries more accessible to Providence youth.
Subrecipient	Providence Public Library
Period of Performance Start	12/3/2021
Period of Performance End	6/30/2022
